

A few months after my baby daughter was born on a hot and balmy afternoon. My neighbour knocked on the door and asked if she could clean my kitchen and do the washing up for me. I accepted her kind offer and it felt wonderful to have some help. :-)

